Marines Warn, Then Leave Base on Cuba

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—A special force of 1,450 U.S. Marines was due to sail away from Guantanamo naval base today after a weekend visit that served as a strong hint to Prime Minister Fidel Castro that help was not far off should he try to take the big American installation by force.

In apparent retaliation for the presence of the Marines, Castro Sunday called out an estimated 200,000 of his reorganized civilian militia for meetings in Havana. Speakers harped on Castro's oft-repeated theme that the United States is planning to launch an invasion of Cuba.

U.S. authorities at first said the 48-hour visit of the Marines at the base on the southeast coast was to give the highly trained force relaxation ashore. But they later added it could be considered a show of strength to discourage Castro from any attack on the base.

Castro's supporters called the visit of the Marines "provocation and aggression."

Castro appeared at one of the militia meetings and boasted Cuba's defenses are stronger than ever and "any mercenaries"—his usual term for invaders—would be liquidated if they came to Cuba.

Called out at 7 a.m., the militia men filled in forms to give information on where they could be found at any hour of the day. It was learned during their mass turnout that they have been reorganized along more military lines and their training period lengthened.

Speakers at one of the meetings said a force of 147 men—about company strength—in each of Havana's militia districts soon would be equipped with "the most modern weapons," presumably obtained from Czechoslovakia.

Castro, in an interview with the Egyptian weekly Al-Ahram, said Cubans are not such "idiots" as to try to take the Guantanamo base by force.

Castro was criticized by a high member of the Roman Catholic hierarchy, Msgr. Eduardo Boza Naveda, auxiliary bishop of Havana. He issued a pamphlet stating that Castro's social revolution contradicted Christian principles and followed the Communist line.

In the Panama Canal Zone Sunday, six officers and one crewman of the Cuban ship Oriente jumped ashore as the freighter was going through the canal and asked asylum from U.S. authorities. With the captain and the chief engineer the only officers left aboard, the ship had to delay its departure for Korea with a cargo of sugar.

Cold and Wet Spreads Over the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold, wet weather spread across western areas and the middle part of the country today and headed eastward.

Blustery winds from Canada dropped temperatures into the 30s as far south as the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle. Rain, sleet and snow pelted many areas in the wet belt. Two inches of snow fell in Russell, Kan., and nearly two inches of rain hit eastern Kansas and western Missouri.

One of the early morning precipitation belts covered the middle and upper Mississippi valleys and the upper Great Lakes region, with more than one inch of rain in some areas. Showers sprinkled the central Gulf Coast, the middle Atlantic coast and in southern New England.

The frosty air dropped readings into the 40s in the upper Rio Grande Valley of Texas. The 40-degree marks covered most of the Mississippi Valley, with the 20s and 30s in the northern and central Plains.

It was -6 in Fraser, in the Colorado Rockies, but most of the cold air had moved out of Montana and Wyoming, with readings in the 30s and 40s. The 50s prevailed along the western Gulf Coast and in the 40-60 degree range in other parts of the nation.

Another Bomb Scare in N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The city had another Sunday bomb scare Sunday night in the Times Square area, but it proved to be more sound than fury.

No one was injured and there was no damage when a small powder charge in a wax-covered cylinder flashed with a loud hiss at a subway station telephone.

Bomb squad officials said the flash apparently had no connection with the bombs that have exploded in the city in recent weeks.

Natives Are Repulsed by UN Forces

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—U.N. troops have blunted an offensive by rampaging Baluba tribesmen in chaotic Kasai province after seizing four white officers leading the native warriors.

Three Belgians posing as traders and a white Rhodesian identified only as "Captain Robert" were accused by the U.N. high command of masterminding a plot to plunge Kasai into civil war in violation of a truce pact.

U.N. troops from Ghana and Liberia with armored cars checked 5,000 Baluba tribesmen who pillaged villages in a drive northward from the self-styled separatist "Mining State" of tribal chief Albert Kalonji.

An uneasy peace was restored in Kasai over the weekend, but U.N. troops and planes were alerted to fly in reinforcements to meet any new flareup.

Indian Gen. I. Rikhye of the United Nations forces told a news conference he hoped the detention of the four Europeans he charged with organizing the rebellion would end the revolt. They were seized Sunday and taken to Lubumbur, capital of Kasai province.

Says U. S. Can Hold Cuban Base

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The United States has sufficient strength in Cuba to resist an effort by Premier Fidel Castro to seize the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base, a top Marine Corps general says.

Lt. Gen. J.C. Mann, assistant Marine Corps commandant, said Saturday that he didn't think Castro would be "foolish enough" to try to take the base, which the U.S. maintains under a treaty.

Ike and Nixon Plan Strategy in Homestretch

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon arranged a campaign strategy conference today with the presidential race turning into the homestretch.

In another campaign development, Nixon announced he plans a visit to Alaska. This will round out his coverage of all 50 states.

The White House announced that Nixon, Republican candidate to succeed Eisenhower, and a group of campaign aides would lunch with Eisenhower.

Asked whether the meeting would deal with campaign strategy, with the election just eight days off, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty laughed and replied:

"Certainly they are not going to talk about the time of day. It will be a discussion of the final days of the campaign."

Voids Suit to Keep 51 Off Ballot

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today dismissed a suit which sought to keep proposed constitutional Amendment 51, the municipal financing measure, off the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

Justice Ed. F. McFaddin, who wrote the unanimous opinion, said the action should have been filed in Pulaski Chancery Court instead of the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court has original jurisdiction—that is suits are filed there initially instead of in a lower court—over proposals initiated by the people by petitions.

McFaddin said the court has no such original jurisdiction over measures referred by the Legislature as was proposed Amendment 51.

"The legislative proposals are submitted more than a year and a half ahead of general election dates."

Voter-sponsored proposals may be submitted only a few months before.

Proposed Amendment 51 was attacked by Mrs. Robert M. Berry of Little Rock, who charged the ballot title is misleading.

"The Supreme Court didn't go in to this issue because it found the suit had filed in the wrong place."

"The proposal would remove the tax limit for cities' capital improvements, increase from five to 10 mills the ceiling for general purposes and leave up to municipal governing bodies the responsibility of setting salary levels."

AEA Is Opposed to Amendment 52

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Education Association remains "unilaterally opposed" to proposed Amendment 52, its president says.

Dr. Hugh Mills, AEA president, said Saturday that his group would continue to work for defeat of the school-closing measure to be voted on Nov. 8.

He said Gov. Orval B. Faubus, father of the amendment who urged its adoption in a Friday night television speech, "has a right to his opinion," but that his stand would not alter the AEA position.

The AEA and several affiliated groups will hold their annual meetings at Little Rock Thursday and Friday and proposed Amendment 52 probably will be up for discussion then.

Nixon's Brother Admits Getting $205,000 Loan

By GENE HANDSAKER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's brother, Donald, acknowledged he got a $205,000 loan from industrialist Howard Hughes' tool firm — a circumstance denied last week by the Republican presidential nominee's personal campaign manager.

But, in his first comment on a Drew Pearson column linking the vice president's name with a possible conflict-of-interest deal, Donald Nixon said Sunday: "I have never asked my brother to do anything for me or anyone else in the government; and if I did ask I know he would refuse."

Pearson later said Donald's statement "overlooks several important facts."

Donald issued a statement detailing his financial difficulties, including an unsuccessful effort to save his restaurant business with the $205,000 loan. He accused Pearson of trying to smear his brother.

"I am deeply grieved and concerned to think that any individual would use my business misfortune to influence the outcome of the presidential election," said Donald Nixon.

When the Pearson article appeared last week, Richard M. Nixon's campaign manager, Robert N. Finch, called it "an obvious political smear in the last two weeks of the campaign."

Finch said Donald got the loan from an attorney friend.

After Donald Nixon issued his statement, Pearson said: "It should be noted that ordinarily it would not have taken him five days to make an explanation of this transaction if it was clean as a hound's tooth."

Pearson's article last week said "the family of Richard M. Nixon received a $205,000 loan Dec. 10, 1956 from the Hughes Tool Co. and that thereafter Hughes' problems with various government agencies improved. Whether the improvement was connected with the loan is not known."

"Drew Pearson has charged that four years ago my corporation and my mother were loaned a large sum of money, without sufficient security, and that this sum was never repaid," Donald Nixon's statement said.

"Those were humiliating times. The scars they left are deep. Now, in the last days of the

Can't Afford Nixon 4 Years, Says Kennedy

By GEOFFREY GOULD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the United States "cannot possibly afford four years of Republican leadership under Mr. Nixon."

Kennedy started the last vital full week of the campaign driving through the cobbled streets of melting hot South Philadelphia.

At a shopping center rally, he sought to pin the Republican party label firmly on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who in an attempt to attract Democratic votes, often has said the party label does not matter.

"We have come down on the side of progress," Kennedy said, adding that the Republican party has opposed every progressive measure of the past and that Nixon has associated himself with this record for the past 14 years.

Kennedy winds up four days of campaigning in Philadelphia today. Then he flies to California, another critical state that also carries a hefty 32 electoral votes.

Cold Front Sweeps Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front swept through Arkansas Sunday, followed by a blast of cold air from the plains states that was expected to push temperatures down into the 30s to night.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock said the cold front moved eastward out of the state late Sunday and was situated in Alabama today, but its effects still were being felt here.

However, winds are expected to decrease in force Tuesday and the temperature is expected to start a gradual climb that will continue through Thursday or Friday.

No rain is expected until the end of the week.

Scattered frost was forecast for the northeast part of the state for Tuesday morning. The outlook was for clearing skies tonight and Tuesday and partly cloudy with rising temperatures Wednesday.

Temperatures tonight were expected to be in the low to mid 30s in the northeast and northwest sections and mid 30s to low 40s elsewhere. The high Tuesday was forecast for low 50s to low 60s.

Insurance Break for Some Drivers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Adjusted automobile insurance rates, which take effect Tuesday will result in a "slight reduction" in basic premiums with other discounts available for some car-owners.

Companies affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association also will offer a new type of policy. The firms will give discounts for accident-free drivers with those drivers with accident or traffic violation records to be penalized.

Compact car owners also will get discounts.

The new rate system has been approved by state Insurance Commissioner Harvey G. Combs.

Donald said his mother, Hannah Nixon, executed a promissory note in favor of Waters for $205,000, secured by a mortgage on a corner lot she owned in suburban Whittier, Calif.
"I have had this property appraised by competent appraisers who fixed the value of the prop-at $228,000," Donald continued.

"The value of the property is greater than the total amount of the loan so that the lender has clearly suffered no loss and will suffer no loss."
Pearson, in Monterey, Calif., for a speaking engagement, told the Los Angeles Examiner that Donald's statement overlooks:
"1. that Frank Waters was the lobbyist for Howard Hughes and on intimate terms with the vice president.
"2. That extreme secrecy was used to conceal the loan.
"3. This was not a loan but a gift."
Pearson said an affidavit signed Jan. 30, 1959, by Waters and his law partner, James J. Arsponsible for repayment of the loan."

"4. The property was worth no more than $60,000 at the very most.
"5. Richard M. Nixon, accord-

Air Tragedy Told by Few Survivors

(TOLEDO, Ohio (AP))—Survivors of a flaming airliner crash that killed 22 persons Saturday night told of spluttering engines and a wobbly takeoff.
Accounts of the crash and the flame-scarred wreckage of the chartered C46 aircraft were being examined today by federal, state

the cause of the disaster.
The twin-engine plane, attempting to take off in a heavy fog, carried 40 persons. Most were members of the California Polytechnic College football team returning to the school.
"We barely got off when the minor injuries.

The plane bounced alongside the runway, broke in half and the front section burst into flames.

and 16 members of the football team.
Also dead were the team man-his. Perhaps your father is the old-fashioned kind who rates a son higher than a daughter. Prove him mistaken by making it your business to be outstanding at school, in grades, looks, and charm. Put your brother in his place; that of a callow, self-important teacher, too young and inexperienced to know real teachers don't blame their own insecurity on others. Steal the show in which he sees himself as star.

Dear Helen:

I have been married 20 years and have four children. Most of my married life has been very unhappy. I stayed with my husband because I loved him. Our trouble has been money. He kept demanding spending money to the last penny. I guess I should have demanded spending money when we first married but being young, I didn't want him to think I married him for money. We have quarreled about this. He calls me everything, which made me lose all love for him.

Now he has a blind uncle, plus his mother, living with us. My husband pockets the $5 a week his uncle pays. Yet I am the one that does for Uncle. If I could get enough money together, I would leave but I can't leave my children and I have no way of supporting them. What to do? — Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: If you don't stand up for yourself, no one else will. Tell your husband that you won't do any more for his uncle until given that $5 a week. Since gave me an identification bracelet. Would it be proper for me to give him one for his birthday? Or so what would I give him for Christmas? — C. P.

Dear Helen:

Dear Helen:

I am a desperate teen-ager longing for help. I have a married man seven years older than I am. He has asked me to marry him after he gets his divorce. He wants me to go away with him when he joins the Army. If I marry him I will have to give up my career. I feel a responsibility toward him since I broke up his marriage. Should I give up my career or my love? — Career or Love

Dear Career or Love: Unless you start making amends right quick you will be in real trouble. As I've often said, a human being can do anything in this world except name the punishment for misdeeds. Think of someone else for a change. Your career! Your love! How about the poor man's wife? Let go of him — for his good, not yours. Were this the big love of your life you would not be asking which to give up — your love, or your career. If it were the real thing there would be no distinction.

Dear Helen:

My boy friends birthday is only two weeks before Christmas. Should I give him two presents, or what? He has given me presents. I have been going with him since April. For graduation he gave me an identification bracelet. Would it be proper for me to give him one for his birthday? Or so what would I give him for Christmas? — C. P.

Dear C. P.: Of course it is proper to give your boyfriend a birthday and Christmas present. Don't penalize him because these two important days come so close together. But, since he has presented you with an I. D. bracelet, give him something different — a fountain pen, inflated silver cuff links or a book dealing with your favorite hobby. Any one of these would also be suitable for a Christmas gift.

Upsets Are Feature of American

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ, Associated Press Sports Writer

The versatility of fullback Jack Spikes of the Dallas Texans and defensive halfback Billy Atkins of the Buffalo Bills have lightened the races in the American Football League today.

Both division leaders, the Denver Broncos in the Western section, and the Houston Oilers in the Eastern, lasted defeat Sunday with Spikes and Atkins proving instrumental in both cases.

Dallas, the Western Division cellar-dwellers, stunned Denver 17-14 and dropped the Broncos into a tie for the lead with Los Angeles which beat Boston 45-16 Friday night. Buffalo, third in the East, upset front-running Houston 25-24.

Spikes, a 220 pound power-driving fullback with a talented, provided the Texans with their margin of victory over Denver with an 11-yard field goal in the third period. The former TCU mainstay also scored Dallas' first touchdown and booted two extra points.

Atkins, a defensive specialist who took over Buffalo's kicking chores against Houston when Joe Hergert was hurt, kicked three field goals to help beat Houston. An ex-Auburn stalwart who also saw service with the San Francisco 49ers of the National League, Atkins produced the winning field goal from 15 yards out with less than six minutes to play.

Baylor yielded the Southwest Conference lead to Rice and dropped into a second-place tie with Arkansas after losing 14-6 to Texas Christian, which had won only one previous game. How long this situation will last is debatable. Arkansas, which conquered Texas A&M 7-3 in a Saturday night game, is the next Rice opponent while Baylor faces Texas, 17-7 winner over SMU.

Syracuse, lacking the strong two-way interior linemen who play. His others were 22 and 45-yard kicks.

The Texans, boosting their record to 3-4, stayed off a last-minute Denver threat after building an early lead on the running of Spikes and Abner Haynes. The Broncos missed a tie when Gene Mingo's 39-yard field goal try was wide with 30 seconds to go.

Dallas moved to within one game of first place in the West. Denver and Los Angeles are tied for the lead with 4-3 won-loss records.

Buffalo's Johnny Green clicked on 18 and 49 passes for 334 yards and two touchdowns. Hergert also kicked a 26-yard field goal before he was hurt.

Only 7 Major Teams Have a Clean Record

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

About this stage of the college football season some of the teams that have been establishing fine reputations begin popping stitches and coming apart at the seams from the rigors of all-major schedules.

It happened last Saturday to Syracuse, the 1959 national champion, to Baylor, and to a lesser extent, to second-ranked Mississippi. As a result only seven major teams go into November with clean records.

They are Missouri, Navy, Utah State and New Mexico State, all seven game winners, and Iowa Minnesota and Yale, each 6-0 and look what's in store for them.

Iowa, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll and candidate No. 1 for the Rose Bowl invitation, runs into the big, tough Minnesota team that has been a source of embarrassment to the folks who wanted to fire Coach Murray Warmath a year ago. Iowa had something less than an easy time last Saturday beating Kansas 21-7 while sixth-ranked Minnesota rolled over Kansas State 48-7.

Navy, for whom Joe Bellino pulled out a 14-7 decision over Notre Dame, encounters Duke, a 6-0 winner over Georgia Tech. Both teams are very much in the bowl picture at this stage.

Missouri, scoring the first time it got the ball for the fifth time in seven games, whopped Nebraska 20-0. Colorado, tied with the Tigers for the Big Eight lead, had trouble beating the same Nebraska team two weeks ago but staged a joyous celebration after last Saturday's 7-0 decision over Oklahoma.

Utah State and Wyoming share the Skyline Conference lead after beating Brigham Young 4-0 and Utah 17-7, respectively. Southern Cal, 21-6 winner over Stanford, and Washington, 7-6 victor over Oregon, share the top spot in the Big Five. The winner likely will represent the West in the Rose Bowl.

Since Mississippi was held to a hard-won 6-6 tie by Louisiana State, Tennessee, also tied but unbeaten, is in a good spot to bid for the Southeastern Conference title. The Vols trimmed North Carolina 27-14 Saturday. Ole Miss and Tennessee meet Nov. 12.

Baylor yielded the Southwest Conference lead to Rice and dropped into a second-place tie with Arkansas after losing 14-6 to Texas Christian, which had won only one previous game. How long this situation will last is debatable. Arkansas, which conquered Texas A&M 7-3 in a Saturday night game, is the next Rice opponent while Baylor faces Texas, 17-7 winner over SMU.

TRIAL BY SLANDER

By Travis Macrae

"Mrs. Hamilton, will you please tell the court — when did you first meet the defendant?"

CHAPTER I

Janet scarcely slept the night before the trial began. Now, before it was quite light she was awake again.

She went into the bathroom and looked at herself in the mirror. Without surprise she saw that she looked frightened and exhausted, and past the age when make-up and hope conceal emotional disasters.

Thick dark hair, cut short, framed a chalk white face and the gray eyes that looked back at her had lost their cool air of command.

She wished that she was once again the contented suburban housewife she had been almost all of her adult years. A wave of self-pity brought with it a keen desire to cry, but she knew it was important to look and act composed at the trial.

Wearily she showered and started dressing, taking special care with her make-up. She wanted to look conservative at the trial, but realized, as she looked into the closet and pushed garment bags along a pole, that her wardrobe hardly offered the possibility of anything else. Here were tweed suits, skirts and crisp blouses, a black dress for the city and a few tailored woolen dresses. Several evening gowns, long, unsworn, hung at the back, and her gayest cocktail dress was a calm beige. A crimson crepe, bought not long ago, stood out as the closet's only splash of color.

In a panic, she wondered: How can this be happening to anyone like me?

Still staring into the closet, she had a sudden frivolous thought: How does one dress for this sort of occasion, for town or country? Or do you simply wear that little black dress that will take you everywhere, even to a murder trial?

Hastily she pulled out a gray wool, slipped it over her head and ran downstairs. It was still early, although the sky was lightening. Her stomach knotted in reluctance to meet the coming day. She made coffee and thought briefly of trying to eat some breakfast.

"Hi, Mom. How come you're dressed so early?" She turned to see Johnny standing at the kitchen door. At 10 he was beginning to get a sturdy, big-boy look. He had been a little slither lately. But she knew she hadn't been a perfect companion either.

"I woke up and I couldn't go back to sleep," she said.

He sat down on one of the stools at the breakfast bar while she started boiling water for eggs and fixing juice and toast. In a few minutes loitering footsteps brought Bruce, still sleepy and bawled, into the kitchen, his cockle standing up from a night's tussle with his pillow. Brown eyes beneath blond hair looked at her with a serious expression. Although barely six, and in many ways still a baby, he had a natural composure and self-sufficiency that Johnny made last year's Sizeable Seven so formidable, was outplayed and beaten 10-0 by a Pittsburgh team whose 3-2-2 record hardly is a true measure of its strength. Both Pitt losses were by one point.

Those upsets weren't the day's real shocks, however. The defeat of previously unbeaten Rutgers by non-winning Villanova, 14-12; George Washington's 20-6 victory over the Air Force and the 44-6 score Columbia rolled up against Cornell were among the more surprising results.

Her mother, after the usual peck on the cheek, said nothing. Janet found herself wishing she would show some emotion. Any emotion, even if it meant violence — shouting and accusations. Finally, Mrs. Graham spoke. "Will there be anyone in to clean today, Janet?"

"No, Mrs. Schwartz was here yesterday. I think you'll find everything in pretty good shape. I've been using a cleaner in White Plains. The one in the village hasn't been too good. The driver will be here today. I've left money for him on the counter, but there's nothing to go. Johnny can play at Brewster's, and Bruce has asked the little boy across the street to come over after school if it's nice. I can't think of anything else. Mrs. Schwartz will come back tomorrow to iron."

"Oh? Mrs. Schwartz is staying on with you?"

It was the kind of remark, apparently harmless, that was typical of Janet's mother. In Mrs. Graham's surprise lay the implication that scandal would have driven away Janet's cleaning woman. "I presume so," she said.

Later, she could never recall with any clarity the hours she spent in the courtroom. Vaguely, she remembered following the slightly stooped figure of her father down an interminable when or how she made her way to the witness chair for the first time and sat down, hands clasped tightly in her lap so that their trembling would not be evident.

Before her, slightly bent forward, stood Mr. Berenson, the black-haired lawyer to whom she had talked at length only last week. He had outlined questions he would ask and listened thoughtfully to her answers. But she could barely remember any of that conversation.

He cleared his throat. It was beginning. If only she wouldn't shake. So much depended upon the way she acted right now.

He said, "Mrs. Hamilton, will you please tell the court — when did you first meet the defendant?"

Old Archie Badly Licked in Rome

ROME (AP) — Slugging Giulio Rinaldi, 25-year-old Italian light heavyweight boxing littist, today holds a 10-round victory over world champion Archie Moore. But he's not sure he can do it at 15 rounds in a little match.

Rinaldi, a virtual unknown, who won the Italian crown this year on a first-round knockout, upset ageless Archie Saturday.

"I'm going to need practice — more experience — before I take on Germany's Erich Scholpinger for the European championship," Rinaldi said. "And certainly I'll need more experience, particularly in staying 15 rounds, before I meet Moore in the crack at the world title which he promised me."

Moore didn't seem concerned about his first setback since losing to Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title nearly four years ago. He looked out of condition but was wily as a fox.

Archie easily kept things under control for nine rounds, rolling with punches which seemed to worry him little. In the 10th, however, the Italian slugger landed two or three which sent Archie back to the ropes. The referee began counting even though Archie was on his feet.

Referee Marcello Tinelli insisted Archie was incapable of self defense and kept on counting while the champion waved at him wildly to get out of the way and

State Duck Callers Take Up Challenge

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A group of Arkansas duck callers will accept a Louisiana caller's challenge to let the ducks decide who quacks most like a duck. Leavell Smith Jr., 30, said Sunday, "We're definitely going to accept" the challenge of Raleigh Newman, 30-year-old Lake Charles, La., professional guide and hunter and a former international duck calling champion. Smith said the Nov. 16-17 dates proposed by Newman probably would be acceptable, although he added that the Stuttgart callers would prefer to stage the "quack off" a few days earlier "when it's duck killing as well as duck calling season." The Louisiana duck season ends Nov. 15.

Newman first hurled his challenge last year, complaining that the Stuttgart folks used an "artificial" call which might please contest judges, but wouldn't influence ducks. Hunters from Stuttgart, home of the World's Duck Calling Contest, agreed to the quackoff, but the ducks were gone before it could be set up last year.

Smith, chairman of the Stuttgart contest, said Newman and his
